

Claims

1. A micro-holding pipette with an oblique opening, characterized in that the surface of the opening of the holding end of the micropipette is at an acute angle with the ordinate axis of the holding end, which is less than 90° .
2. A micro-holding pipette according to claim 1, characterized in that the acute angel preferably is from 25° to 85° .